ALBEMARLE AND CHESAPEAKE CANAL. Messes. Editors: I propose to give you as briefly Albemarle Sound, via and through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal. I have no doubt the paper, however feebly written, will prove interesting to a large number of your readers; for scarcely one in a hundred of them have any correct idea of the real state of this great work, and it is emphatically a great work, and one, too, of very great importance to more States than one. Without further preliminary let me proceed.

On Tuesday morning last, the 17th instant, about nine o'clock, we went on board the neat little steamer Calypso at Bain's Wharf, Portsmouth, and in a few minutes were skimming over the soft smooth bosom of Elizabeth River in a South-easterly direction.

The party consisted of His Excellency Gov. Ellis Col. T. Pollok Burgwyn and my humble self from North Carolina, and Capt. Marshall Parks, President of the Albemarle & Chesapeake Canal Co., A. M. Burt, Esq. Treasurer, James Gordon, Esq., Director and John Lathrop, Chief Engineer; a very pleasant party of gentlemen, who (as well with those who subsequently joined us.) enlivened the time throughout the entire trip with pleasant and interesting conversation. At the Lock sixteen miles from Portsmouth, we were joined by Dr Thomas V. Webb, another Director.

It is almost useless to speak of Elizabeth River. I WILL GIVE A REWARD of Fifty Dollars for either of its a very pretty stream, affording a sufficient depth of sage of vessels of eight to ten feet draught.

These gates are made of wood, but are so stronly bolted and banded with iron, as to be almost as strong as iron itself. They are easily worked, and I may as well here add that on our return the tide being up, found the upper gate closed, and were detaind a little over a minute in closing the lower, opening the upper and thus getting through.

We tarried at the Lock half an hour or more to examine it, and then passed on through, and about a couple in history as a Revolutionary battle ground.
